

HUNTINGTON D. SHELDON

Huntington D. Sheldon was born in Greenwich, Connecticut in 1903. He received his B.A. degree from Yale University in 1925, and his earlier education in Europe, having attended Eton College, England for four years. After serving with the accounting firm of Price, Waterhouse and Company for two years in Europe, he returned to the United States and was engaged in the investment banking field until the outbreak of World War II. He served in the European Theater for nearly four years as an intelligence staff officer with the U.S. Air Forces. He is at present a colonel USAFR (Inactive). He joined CIA in June 1952 and his present position is that of Assistant Director, Office of Current Intelligence.

25 YEAR RE-REVIEW